McCormick Launches New Website

Former State Representative Terri McCormick announced today the launch of a new website highlighting her public policy and non-profit interests in the State of Wisconsin.

“Too often elected officials forget that the people they serve can be found in their own neighborhoods and in their own communities,” said McCormick. “I believe my public service record is one of ideas and leadership putting people first. I’d like to continue that tradition with the creation of a consulting and publishing group that will focus on the needs of our communities through support of service based organizations.

“We at McCormick Dawson CPG aim to create opportunities and advance ideas that will have a positive impact on the Fox Cities and the State of Wisconsin.”

As with the McCormick Dawson CPG mission; Terri McCormick intends to lead through the example of service and support for those organizations and leaders who do the same. The McCormick Dawson CPG, Ltd. Mission is to “find new paths to innovation, which will inspire a new generation of leaders.”
